Hi, I'm your Area Diageo Sales Executive. I'll be visiting your store regularly to:

1. Share leading market and consumer insights
2. To support you with brand and marketing investment in some of the biggest alcohol brands in the world
3. Share new product information
4. Share merchandising tips to help you sell more

Ultimately supporting you with the right information and tools to maximise your alcohol range sales.

We've also launched a new Diageo Partnership Programme, designed to support both of our businesses to grow together which I can take you through today.

I'd like to ask you some questions first though to help me to get to know you and what's important to you and your business.

Why do we believe that there is an opportunity for BWS to drive footfall & basket spend?

Spend per trip on alcohol is almost twice as high as average spend without.

The customers buying alcohol in your store are spending more and are highly valuable to your sales and profits.

(IGD September 2024, Kantar, Spend per Trip L52W to 30/11/25)

24.7M people purchase alcohol, but only 20% of these buy in Convenience.

We can support you with advice on how to increase the number of shoppers buying alcohol in your store.

(Kantar, GB- TBA Sectors, Actual Buyers 52W to 30/11/25)

40% of shoppers BWS trips are planned and 54% are loosely planned but open to influence in-store. There are critical ways you can help support their buying decisions.

Source: Diageo x MMR Purchase Decision Hierarchy, 2025.

Space

Allocating the correct amount of space to each subcategory maximises the selling opportunity.

Layout

69% of GB shoppers buy into TBA to be adventurous and explore, but poor fixture layout, larger formats and high prices can discourage exploration, leading to 76% of shoppers sticking to products that feel safe and familiar.
